ERFAL in short...

The project “ERFAL: Exchange of practices for disadvantaged people” aims to establish a thematic network at European level in order to share experience on different topics in the area of integration of disadvantaged people. The project is developing a collection of good practices dealing with the integration of migrants, disabled people, NEETs and elderly in order to provide successful models for raising their skills and supporting their economic and social integration.

The good practices will be shared with stakeholders at local, regional, national and European level aiming at improving the quality of the educational opportunities offered to those groups of disadvantaged people.

The project is funded under the Erasmus+ programme for the period 2017-2019.

ERFAL aims to...

- establish a thematic network for sharing experience on different topics in the area of integration of disadvantage people
- improve the quality of the educational opportunities offered to disadvantaged people and raise their skill levels in a wide variety of sectors
- develop a specific methodological toolbox with a selection of tools for integration of disadvantage people
- support disadvantaged people in their economic and social integration
- enhance the exploitation potential of existing educational projects focused on integration of various disadvantaged groups

BarCamp workshops...

ERFAL is using the methodology of the BarCamp participatory workshops where information and experiences are shared through different means and formats. There will be 4 BarCamp workshops organised under the project, each one dealing with a specific topic related to the integration of disadvantaged people, and namely:

- First BarCamp (Nov 2017 / Sofia, BG): “Integration of migrants and refugees”
- Second BarCamp (May 2018 / Valencia, ES): “Integration of disabled people”
- Third BarCamp (Oct 2018 / Larnaca, CY): “Integration of NEETs”
- Fourth BarCamp (Feb 2019 / Rize, TR): “Integration of elderly people”

BarCamp 1: Integration of migrants and refugees

The partners held the kick-off meeting of the project on 16 November 2017 in Sofia, Bulgaria. The meeting was also used for the organisation of the first transnational BarCamp workshop with the topic “Integration of migrants and refugees”. Each participant presented a good practice dealing with the issue in question and the event resulted in a set of 18 good practices available in diverse forms – presentations, educational games, national and European initiatives and projects for integration and education of migrants, language materials for migrants, first-hand migrant experiences, mobile applications, etc.
